The Railway, Protection and Free Trade.

The Dominion Board of Trade met recently in Ottawa—on January 18th. The Board was constituted from representatives of the different Chambers of Commerce of the Dominion. Ontario and Quebec were well represented,—but from the Lower Provinces, there were only four or five delegates, representing the St. John, N. B., Chamber of Commerce. The Hon. John Young, of Montreal, was President. The object of the meeting was to gather the commercial opinion of the Dominion on all matters pertaining to trade,—including, of course, the means of transportation. The President read a memorial of the Montreal Chamber of Commerce, urging the importance of a Pacific Railway, connecting Montreal with British Columbia. Mr. Ryan, M. P., of the Montreal Corn Exchange, also advocated a Pacific Railway. Mr. Leggatt moved that the Government consider the best means of connecting with Manitoba. Mr. Ryan differed, and thought that the Dominion should construct the Pacific Railway, with the aid of Ontario and Quebec,—and moved "That the attention of the Government be called to the propriety of making a Railway from the Atlantic to the Pacific, as near Manitoba as possible." Messrs. Leggatt and Howland favored immediate railway communication with Manitoba, and thought that the extension to the Pacific could be deferred. Mr. Gould viewed the Canadian Pacific as visionary. The Hon. Mr. Skead advocated a railway from Quebec to Manitoba, and a grant of land for a Pacific line. The resolution of Mr. Leggatt "was amended by adding a recommendation that the survey of a Pacific Railway by the Government, and the construction of the railway, be undertaken as soon as the finances will admit." Mr. Ryan "did not wish this Board to separate without putting on record a recommendation for the Pacific Railway." Mr. Daly thought it absurd to build a Pacific Railway, if the Americans built theirs within sixty miles of Fort Garry. Mr. McKenzie thought the American line should not deter us from going on; but was not in favor of urging the Government to pledge the credit of the country for such a large undertaking as the Pacific Railway. Mr. Wilkes maintained that the valley of the Ottawa was the natural route for the Trans-continental Railway; and that railways must be built to carry the population with them. Mr. Leggatt's resolution was carried, after an amendment was added that an application be made for a grant of public lands to construct the railway to the Pacific. The above expression may be taken by our readers as a fair indication of the public opinion of Ontario and Quebec, respecting the railway; and it is on these Provinces mainly that its construction will depend. But the Board of Trade also passed a resolution for canal improvements, showing that they were prepared to associate new and enlarged canals with the proposed railway to the Pacific,—so as not only to command the trade of the Pacific, but also of the Western States. Protection and Free Trade came up also for discussion, and Mr. Elliot read a paper from the Toronto Board of Trade in favor of Protection,—and subsequently moved that the duties be increased from 15 to 20 per cent., the free list remaining the same as it is now, but reducing the duties on sugar, tea, coffee, and spices. It would not be surprising if such were the shadow of the financial policy of Sir F. Hincks, when Parliament shall have met. The following remarks of Mr. Gordon, of Toronto, indicate tolerably correctly the feeling in favor of Protection in Ontario. He said:—

"That it was unfair to admit flour, grain, coal, and other surplus products from the United States, without some return. He thought that manufactured goods could be produced as cheaply in Canada as in foreign countries. The tariff of 1859 had greatly stimulated the boot and shoe trade, so that it was now in a position almost to stand by itself. The people now obtained a very cheap article. The woollen, flax, and cotton mills were nearly all closed up since 1864, by the Government policy since Confederation. Emigration was going on from England, where there was great misery, to the United States, the most protective country in the world. He referred to the emigration from the Province of Quebec to the United States. His belief for the reason of all this, was the faulty tariff, which did not encourage native industry. The country could not be successful from one industry alone. He was glad to hear that the shipping interests of Quebec were so prosperous; it had not been so long. He showed from a paper, that 32 woollen mills in Ontario had either been broken down or were closed. A flax mill at Streetsville had been burned, and not reopened. He did not advocate extreme protection; but while the duties on tea were advanced, he thought those on manufactured goods should be raised. There was a large amount of money lying idle in the Banks. If we had free trade, all very well, if the Government could afford it; protection would add to our population."

Mr. Robertson, of Montreal, thought the tariff high enough to afford incidental protection; and an amendment offered to reduce the tariff was carried by 27 yeas to 6 nays. Mr. Ryan moved a resolution that the duties on flour, grain, coke, coal, and salt be reduced. Mr. Howland, brother to the Governor of Ontario, and a Toronto merchant, said that "if the question was tested at the elections, the country was in favor of the duties. He was sorry there was no intention to argue the question. The object of the duty was to encourage inter-colonial trade." Mr. Walker said "that free trade suited Montreal, but did not suit the West; for the agriculturalists did not want the duties done away." The motion of Mr. Ryan was carried, by striking out salt, by 26 yeas, to 8 nays. We have been particular in summarizing the movements of the Board of Trade of the Dominion, in order to bring under the notice of our readers the tendencies of public opinion in Ontario and Quebec; for it will be those Provinces that will for a long time to come shape the commercial policy of the Dominion; and of British Columbia. The evident tendency of events, however, in the Dominion, is towards a higher instead of towards a lower tariff. The demand for the construction of costly public works will entail higher taxation, beyond the possibility of a doubt.

NEW GOLD EXCITEMENT.—The Portland Bulletin, of the 25th, says: By the arrival of the George S. Wright, we received intelligence of a fresh gold excitement upon the far upper Northwestern coast. The new gold fields are on the Skeena River, between Fort Simpson and Tongas. The opening of the season will be the signal for a grand rush there. The particular location or other details of the mines were not known to our informant. He had heard from authentic sources, however, that the mines were reported to have prospected very richly.

ANTI-MONOPOLY PETITION.—A petition, with 60 signatures to it, against the Road Steamer monopoly, came down from Yale by the Otter on Thursday, and was handed to Mr. Cornwall, the member for the district, to be presented to the Legislative Council at its next sitting. The petition received nine signatures at Hope, and on the way down, as far as Sevona, it was signed by every one who was asked to put his name to it.

BIG BEED.—When Mr. Reed left French Creek, Big Feed, on the 2nd January, the Brailey company were taking out from $16 to $20 per day to the hand. During the latter part of the summer, they made as high as three or four ounces to the hand. Mr. Mara, who met with an accident by cutting his foot with an axe, has nearly recovered, and is expected to be down here in about one month.

GENEROUS.—The North Pacific Railroad Company have donated to each religious denomination a site for a church, parsonage, and school house. This is certainly very generous. We should be pleased to have many more gentlemen of such princely generosity in our midst.—Oregon Herald.

CHINESE FREE MASONS.—The Chinese held a meeting last evening, at their hall on Second street. The room was crowded, and on making inquiries what purpose brought such a large number together, we were informed that it was a Chinese Free Mason Convention. —Oregon Herald.

FOR NANAIMO.—The steamer Isabel, left yesterday morning for Nanaimo, where she will load with coal, for her own use. She will return this evening, and proceed to Port Townsend on Monday morning, returning again in the evening.

FOR SKEENA RIVER.—The steamer Otter commenced yesterday to take in freight for Skeena river. About 60 miners will take their departure on her for the new Eldorado. Each of the miners will take with him from six months to one year's provisions.

ENTERING PARIS.—This is the day appointed for the German troops to enter and march through Paris, which will take them about three days. They will come out on Tuesday evening, according to the programme.

THE PRINCE OF WALES.—This vessel was towed around from Esquimalt, by the steamer Otter, yesterday morning, and moored along side the H. B. Co.'s wharf, where she will commence to discharge her cargo early this morning.

SENTENCED.—Charles Vincent was brought up in the Police Court, yesterday morning, on remand, charged with assaulting an Indian, for which he was fined $5, or in default of payment to be committed to prison for one week.

THANKSGIVING DINNER.—The Germans of this city will have a grand dinner at the Colonial Hotel, on Tuesday evening, in honor of the victory of the German arms in France.

TINWARE SALE.—The sale of tinware stores, tinsmith's tools, &c., yesterday, by J. P. Davies, was largely attended, and very good prices were realized for the articles sold.

DISCHARGED.—Bent. Robeson appeared on remand in the Police Court yesterday morning, charged with assaulting R. Maynard. The accused was discharged.

Military men have discovered a new remedy for intoxication, which consists in eating raw potatoes. An ordinary "murphy" will cure the most obstinate case in half an hour.

CONVALESCENT.—We are glad to learn that Mr. Guy Buston has so far recovered from his illness, as to be able to sit up in a chair.

ALHAMBRA HALL.—This hall is being very tastefully decorated for the forthcoming Firemen's ball, on the 22nd inst.

POSTPONED.—The sale of the wreck of the schooner Forest King is postponed until Saturday next, the 25th inst.

DUE.—The steamer California will be due this afternoon, from Portland, via Puget Sound.

THE schooner Winifred, Capt. Lloyd, will leave this morning, for Port Townsend.

THE PROCLIVITIES FOR SENSATION.—It is astonishing that in this modern, and supposed to be more refined age, that a custom still exists which originated in the Fifteenth Century from an accidental circumstance of Maids and Bachelors amusing themselves on the 14th of February, by drawing lotteries, a game to be taken seriously or in joke to represent their future wives or husbands. Their custom modernized, exhibits the same tendency, in the form of Valentines. Some chaste in appearance and sentiment, and others grotesque and calculated to please or offend. T. N. Hibben & Co. are prepared for the coming St. Valentine's Day in the modern and most pleasing form. *

A REQUISITE SUPPLIED.—To avoid the necessity, which has heretofore existed, of sending to San Francisco to have finished book-binding, Robert Williams has, by steady application and practice in the largest establishments in California, perfected himself in the art of book-binding and ruling, both plain and ornamental, and is supplied with all the necessary material and machinery. Always to be found at T. N. Hibben's & Co. *

☞ Memory presides over the past. Fell's Coffee over the present. The first lives in a rich temple hung with glorious trophies, and lined with tombs, but Fell's Coffee has but one shrine and that is every breakfast table. Its aroma walks the earth like a spirit and can be found for sale at every respectable dealers in British Columbia. Beware of spurious imitations. ly *

The West Coast of Vancouver Island.

The coast from Pachinah, which is an open bay exposed to the full force of the S. and S. W. winds, presents an unbroken line (with the exception of a small bay named Clutass) to Cape Beale, after rounding which you enter Barclay Sound, thickly studded with rocky inlets, with good anchorage where ever bottom is to be found. But, in many places the depth varies from twenty-five to sixty-five fathoms. There is inland navigation, with very short intervals of sea travelling, between all the large Sounds on this coast. The islets and coast for some distance inland, are covered with stunted spruce, hemlock, pine and cedar trees, and is very rocky; but up the arms, which all these Sounds throw out to a considerable distance in the interior, and into these arms or inlets many rivers flow. The cedar and pine there attain a gigantic size. The interior of the Island, which was formerly thought to contain large quantities of level land is now known to be nearly one long range of lakes, varying from 20 miles long by 12 broad to 3 miles and 4 in length, commencing with Lake Kennedy, in Clah-o quaht Sound, to some considerable distance to the north of Nootka; from which lakes most of the rivers and creeks that flow into the different Sounds take their rise. Nearly the same description will apply to Clah-o-quaht, Nootka and Ky-you-quaht Sounds, although varying considerably in size. The sea coast between them all, presents the same wild, rocky, and unbroken appearance, backed by high, rugged and peaked mountains, from some of which large cascades or waterfalls are plainly to be seen, descending to the lakes below.

Road Steamers.

EDITOR STANDARD:—The true interests of the Colony require a cheap market in the mines, and road steamers are desirable. But an EXCLUSIVE RIGHT to use them on our roads, conferred on any company, would be to all the farmers and mill-owners in the Colony a notice to quit, without compensation.

By mule team, the cost of carriage from Yale to Cariboo is $10 per 100 lbs.; by road steamer, the cost would not exceed $5. The owners of road steamers will refuse to act as carriers for farmers or merchants, and undersell both, in our only market. The farmer, with his mule team, cannot enter the market at all; the difference in the cost of carriage places him at the mercy of the monopolist. The owners of road steamers could afford to give the farmer a better price than he gets; but will they do so? Not at all; they will reduce the price and tell the farmer to take his produce to market with a mule team. Two companies working road steamers would serve the farmer; one would ruin him.

The cheap market so desirable can be secured only by reserving to farmers and mill-owners the right to use road steamers, to protect their own interests, and enter the market on terms of equality with the local speculator or foreign producer.

At first sight, I supposed the application for this charter was nothing more than a cheap advertisement, intended to attract a crowd or to influence the next election at Cariboo; but I see it is the result of cool calculation, by men who suppose there is no common sense or justice in our Legislative Council.

It is a consolation to remember that the acts of our representatives are subject to approval by the Governor.

G. A. K.

P. S.—As evidence, the petition and the long list of names in the Colonist of the 14th, are not worth a straw.

Delayed Dispatches.

The New Corvette "California."

New York Tribune, January 18th.

The United States corvette California, twenty-one guns, Captain J. M. B. Clitz, sailed from Boston January 13th, for Hampton Roads, on a trial trip, preliminary to making a voyage to the Pacific Ocean via the straits of Magellen. The California is a new ship, built at Portsmouth, New Hampshire, about 2,300 tons burthen, ship rigged and raiting on the register as second class. This is her first cruise, and it is expected that she will prove fast under sail and a comfortable and efficiemt cruiser. The California is ordered to join the Pacific Squadon, and will be absent from the United States about three years. She will, doubtless, become the temporary flagship of the South Pacific Squadron, until the arrival there of the frigate Tennessee, now conveying the San Domingo Commissioners.

The California's battery consists of 9-inch guns in broadside, 11-inch and 100-pounder rifles on the spar deck, and 60 and 20-pounder Dahlgren rifles on the forecastle and poop.

Paris During the Siege.

From the New York Herald of January 23d we copy this:

A balloon letter from Paris, dated December 25, says: Our stock of horses is fast diminishing. Eight hundred horses are slaughtered daily—200 for the army and 600 for the civil population. Eggs are 40 to 50 cents each; butter, $7 a pound; turkey and geese, $16 and $18 apiece, worthless even at that price; chickens, $6 each, and getting very scarce; pigeons, $2 apiece. This morning I gave $1,50 for one pound of salt beef. Rats are 80 cents each. Nearly every restaurant in Paris is closed. Those which remain open half the time vow every night that they will not open the next morning. Onions, carrots and turnips are from five to eight cents apiece. Packets of sour herbs, which from time immemorable have cost three cents cost now from 50 to 60 cents. Everybody has been buying string beans, put up green in tin cans, and, although two or three times the old prices were asked for them, they have all disappeared. Peas and other vegetables prepared in the same way are quite abundant, but nobody buys them, for we have no means of cooking them.

Calico print sizing, made of the whites of eggs, dried here during the summer, to be sent to the manufacturing towns—the siege preventing their transmission—are now on sale as articles of food.

Intoxication has been so prevalent since the commencement of the siege, that the supply of wine and spirits, sufficient to last eight months, will be exhausted in four. There are bread panics daily.

While there is wheat enough there is not flour in sufficient quanities, and the mills are unable to turn out an adequate supply. Then there is the question of fule, for mills and bakeries which is daily becoming more difficult of solution. Bread is cheaper than oats or barley, and horses and cows are fed on bread.

The supply of medicines is becoming very low, and there are rumors that the Government intends to confiscate all of them for the military hospitals.

Laundries refuse work, for there is no starch, little soap, no hot water, and no means of heating irons.

In some quarters of the town there is an insufficient upply of water.

A great many wealthy families are obliged to do their own washing and dry the linen in the dining rooms. Wood is now five cents a pound, and dealers require retail buyers to pay for sawing and carriage home, which makes the cost, etc about 10 cents a pound.

I lose hours daily hunting for something to eat. I occasionally get something which makes me ill with nausea for six or eight hours. More than one meat pie I have bought has made me ill. A physician told me this morning that he advised all his friends to drink daily a wine glass of quinine and wine to counteract the general debility from the want of food in sufficient quantities. Many people will die.

It is painful to see the wan, pinched and famishing faces in the string of people stretched in front of the butcher's, and especially of the public kitchens. I stepped off one this morning, as I walked by it, 210 yards long. Some of the wretched women had skeleton babies sucking.

Typhus and hospital fever sweep to the grave a large number of persons every day. There have been 22,000 deaths in Paris since the siege commenced.

Small-pox continues its ravages with scarcely any abatement. There are many suicides, and there is a good deal of insanity.

There never was so much drunkenness in Paris. It has a large share in the increasing mortality.

VINNIE REAM'S statute of Lincoln, which was unveiled in Washington the other day, is semi-colossal. The figure represents Mr. Lincoln standing erect. The right hand, which is slightly extended, clasps a paper, on whose folds can be read the words referring to the abolition of slavery. The head is slightly cast forward, and the eyes turned toward the paper, giving the appearance of deep thought. The expression of the face is strikingly natural, the skillful blending of the humor and seriousness amounting almost to melancholy, which was so customary with the original, is very happy, and was particularly commented upon by all present as being one of the chief recommendations of the work.

IT is reported of a young married couple in Massachusetts, that, having quarreled, they separated, and subsequently went to work in the same mill and boarded at the same house. Having adjoining rooms in the latter, they pleasantly spent their leisure time talking about each other to companions, in a voice loud enough to be heard through the thin partition, varying the programme occasionally by kicks against the intervening wall, and cries of "I wish it was you!"

It was in 1782 that some ten persons came to John Wesley, in London, to consult him concerning their spiritual state. They formed the nucleus of the society, which, at this hour, numbers more than 50,000 preachers, 3,000,000 communicants, and 12,000,000 hearers—in Great Britain and Ireland alone, the number exceeding 100,000. The religious body extends its circuits over the whole known world.

A Pennsylvania Congressman, it is said, will be brought before the bar of the House of Representatives, on the trivial charge of getting drunk and beating his wife in a Washington hotel. If such pleas are to be entertained, what is to become, we would like to know, of the constitutional guarantee of immunity for incidents of parliamentary debate?

AT Salt Lake the Methodists have a church of 190 members, and in Ogden and Corinne churches of 60 members each, and the numbers are constantly increasing.

Labour in Manitoba.

[From the Manitoba.]

That there is a great scarcity of labour in this Province, every one, who has any thing to do with the employment of hands, knows right well. Everybody complains. Boys can't be got, nor girls, and mechanics of all kinds are at a premium. Now this shows very distinctly one thing, and suggests another. In the first place, it indicates that the Province has taken a start in its onward progress, and the labour, hitherto sufficient to implement all its requirements in this respect, is now altogether insufficient. This is certainly a very satisfactory state of affairs in one respect; but then the work must be done, and the question arises—who are to do it? And this leads to the suggestion. We must have some well organized system of immigration, in the first place, to supply the actual poverty of the labour market. We observe that boys are being imported into Ontario and Quebec, where there are plenty of poor boys already; but here we have no poor boys, and a couple of hundred of them sent here, would not only be a vast boon to the Province, but the lads would grow up to find themselves in a country where plenty and prosperity were their sure portion. Miss Rye, we observe, is still at her good work; will she be good enough to look over Ontario for once, and come over and help us in Manitoba? A hundred of her girls could find employment within twenty-four hours, and receive higher wages than in any Province of the Dominion. And tradesmen of every class, especially those who can bring along with them some little material, are sure to start here with more work than they can overtake, and may lay the foundation of great future prosperity. We would suggest that the employers of labour in the Province should, at once, organize and endeavour, through the agency of the Emigration Bureau, to secure early in spring, a supply of labour commensurate with their wants.

A striking illustration of the saying that the pith of a lady's letter is in the postscrip, was that of a young lady who having gone out to India, and writing home to her friends concluded her letter with the following words: "P. S.—You will see by my signature that I am married."

THE erection of a Methodist church at Buenos Ayres, South America, is an event of no ordinary interest. The corner stone was laid last month, Hon. Robert C. Kirk, United States Consul, Rev. Dexter E. Clapp, and the pastor, Rev. H. G. Jackson, officiating. The lot cost $40,000.

For the first time in the history of the country the President of the United States has been called as defendant in a civil case in Washington. As one of the trutees of the Metropolitan Methodist church, he, with the rest of that body, is summoned to pay a bill claimed to be still due to one of the contractors for the erection of the church.

Brigham Young's fortune is estimated to be not far from $8,000,000 or $9,000,000, and to be rapidly increasing. He is evidently desirous of leaving, when he dies, $2,000 or $3,000 apiece to his numerous widows.

DR. CHING FUN—A CARD—EDITOR STANDARD:—Through the medium of your paper I want to state the very great good that has been done me by Dr. Ching Fun of this city, next door Kwong Lee & Co. For 24 years I suffered with neuralgia on the brain, which baffled the skull of three first-class American physicians. Latterly bronchitis attacked my right lung, and my eyes became awfully inflamed. Despairing of ever being cured I placed myself as a last resort in the hands of Dr. Ching Fun, and after five months treatment I am a well man and feel that I cannot sound the eminent Chinese gentleman's praises too loudly, so that all my countrymen similarly affected may visit him and find relief.
